Ward accepts job as Bryson City Town Manager

“It was a bad Friday for us, but a great move for Josh in his career,” said Mayor Pat Taylor at the news last Friday that Planning Director Josh Ward is leaving Highlands to become the new Town Manager for Bryson City.

Ward’s last day is August 21. He has served the town in its planning and zoning departments for eight years under various town administrators, town managers and planning directors. He was the town’s zoning and code enforcement officer for five years and its Planning Director for the last three years.

Town Manager Bob Frye said he is working on the job advertisement which he will discuss with the Town Board at the Aug. 20 meeting.

“My intention at this time is to work with our Planning Committee made up of Commissioners Eric Pierson and John Dotson during the selection process to create a new job description,“ Frye said.

Car accident takes the lives of mother & son; orphans siblings

Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 5, the Highlands Road (US 64 west) was closed for several hours while law enforcement cleared the scene of an accident that claimed the life of a mother and son and sent others to the hospital.

Near the intersection of US 64 and Ellijay Road close to the Cullasaja Fire Department, 16-year-old Caleb Sloope lost control of a 1996 Chevrolet Van and collided with a 2002 Chevrolet Suburban. Caleb’s mother, Joy Sloope died at the scene and Caleb died later at Mission Hospital. Caleb’s sister Cameron, 17, was critically injured.

The driver and passenger of the Suburban, Hewart Hugel and his wife Ingrid, of Florida, were injured and transported to Mission Hospital.

Swim team is making Highlands proud

On Saturday, Aug. 1, the Highlands Hurricanes participated in a conference meet in Franklin. Numerous medals and ribbons were awarded at the next practice in Highlands. There were four medal winners who competed in the Mountain Swim League Conference meet: Chase Kenter - 1st Place Boys 6U: 25-yard Freestyle and 3rd place Boys 8U: 25-yard Backstroke; Conner Hughes - 1st Place Boys 8U: 25-yard Backstroke; Isaiah Vilardo - 2nd Place Boys 8U: 25-yard Butterfly; and Toby Henderson - 2nd Place Boys 9&10: 100-yard Individual Medley. “We had lots of other ribbon winners and great swims but most importantly a real fun time,” said Assistant Coach Tay Bronaugh. On Saturday at 9a there will be an Inter-Squad Meet. Come on out!
A few weeks ago a newspaper story about the plateau had a photo of me pondering an area map. Actually, the photo captured me having one of those mid-summer daydreams. I was not studying our geography, but dreaming of creating a new county called Plateau County. It would run from Cashiers all the way to the Georgia line.

Of course the State of North Carolina will not create a 101st county. Therefore, my county would be a new county in the 51st state! Yes, I was dreaming about a new state, West Carolina. Let me share my glorious dream.

West Carolina would be comprised of the eight most western counties in what is now North Carolina; that is Cherokee, Graham, Clay, Swain, Jackson, Haywood and Transylvania counties. The eastern boundaries of Haywood and Transylvania would form an almost straight line border between West and North Carolina. Now a similar border could be created if Madison, Buncombe and Henderson counties were a part of the new state. The problem would be that Asheville would be included. I don’t want an overpowering population center in our new state.

Some of the larger land area counties in the new state may want to divide and form new, smaller counties like my beloved Plateau County.

What would be the capital of West Carolina? Any location would be better than Raleigh. Right now folks in Western Carolina are closer to four other state capitals than they are to Raleigh! North Carolina is way too long, and the western part is cut off and isolated by mountains. Just Google a map of North Carolina and those little snapshot maps that pop up illustrate the problem. Western Carolina is cut off in those images, so why not just form a new state so when a person Googles North or West Carolina they would get a full state map.

Let me propose some possible candidates for a centrally located capital, all of which are strategically located to our flagship state university, Western Carolina. Sylva, Waynesville, Brevard would be good locations. Just think, our legislators would not get lost in big far away Raleigh. While our legislature was in session, one could simply drive over to the capital for the afternoon to check out what was going on and who was working the lobby.

I would also include in the state constitution a “home rule” provision for towns and counties. North Carolina could keep...

Oscar Neville Crane

Oscar Neville Crane, born December 13, 1931 to Effie Leona Miller and J. Frank Crane was a native Highlander. He was born and raised on Oak Street, where The Bascom is now.

Along with his parents, he was preceded in death by three brothers, and one sister, Clarence Levi (Bertie), Carlton W., Robert Crane and Margaret Jane C. Montague.

He is survived by his devoted wife, Kathy Spitzer Crane; they were married for 32 years; one sister, Lassie Crane Buchanan (Floyd); two brothers, Frank McCloy (Marie), Chester Lee (Fredda) Crane; two sisters-in-law, Sue W. Crane (the mother of Lee and David), Eloise B. Crane, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Oscar had spent his life guiding horses at Crane’s Riding Stables. After his Dad’s death, Oscar ran the stables. He also did yard work all over Highlands.

Services were Monday, August 10, 2015 at 3 pm at Highlands First Baptist Church with Chaplain Ralph Campbell and Dr. Mark Ford officiating. Burial was in Highlands Memorial Park. Pallbearers were Micah Mullarkey, Sean Mullarkey, David Crane, Harold Crane, Charlie Hicks and Gene Ramey. Honorary pallbearers will be “Smokey” Buchanan, Brooks Bennett, Baker Crane and Danny Crane.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests donations be made to Fidelia Eckerd Living Center, PO Box 190, Highlands, NC 28741.

Bryant-Grant Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements. Online condolences may be made at bryantgrantfuneralhome.com.

Beverly Staples Rymer

Beverly Staples Rymer, of Highlands N.C. died on Aug. 9, 2015. She was born May 26, 1929 in Miami, Florida to James and Caroline Staples. She married John Rymer on April 11, 1955. She lived in South Florida until retiring to Highlands in 1990.

Beverly graduated Fort Lauderdale High School, Florida State University with a Bachelor’s in Education, and Florida International University with a Master’s in Health Administration. Perhaps her most profound educational experience was through the Lyle Fellowship, helping her hone strong lifelong values and friendships.

Beverly taught high school for many years. Teaching was second nature to Beverly and all who knew her learned valuable lessons about life, kindness, empathy, strength and love.

She worked at the Health Planning Council Services of Miami-Dade from 1969 – 1988, eventually becoming director. She was instrumental in the creation of the South Florida Perinatal Network and served as its Executive Director.

Beverly is survived by her husband of 60 years, John Rymer; her siblings Sarah Crump, James Staples and Mary Linda Dooley; her children John Taylor and his wife Donna, Todd and his wife Michelle, and Ann Brady; four grandchildren, Jessica Steinhart, Valerie Toth, Andrew and Gwyn Brady, and one great-grandson, Bennett Toth.

Beverly was active in her community and especially with her church, First Presbyterian of Highlands, where she served as an Elder. She also served on the Board of the Hudson Library. Throughout her life she was an unwavering voice for the silent, a champion for the oppressed and a spokesperson for the power of love.

Beverly asked that we all remember her in our private thoughts and prayers. In lieu of flowers, please make donations to the Highlands Hudson Library.

their Dillon’s Principle where the state legislature grants permission to local governments for every aspect of their operation.

The state constitution would set up a unicameral legislative structure, a one-house legislature and a governor. The assembly would be small, but lean and efficient. I am tired of these long drawn out legislative sessions because the NC Senate can’t agree with the NC House on a budget. Who pays for those long, deadlock sessions anyway?

Now the big benefit would be at the federal level. Western Carolina would be like Wyoming, with two senators and one congressman. Think about the federal aid our delegation could leverage.

We could be like some other states, for instance Mississippi, where we would get more in federal aid than we paid in federal taxes. We could view it as embracing capitalism by making a profit for the state.

Already Western Carolina has great leadership at the local and state level, so there should be no problem finding a governor, senators and congressman. Since our current congressman is in trouble with Speaker of the House Bainer, maybe he would want to serve our new state as a senator or governor.

Now there are a lot of decisions before us as we move toward statehood. I have some answers. For instance, just commandeer the current Division 14 of the NC DOT and repurpose it as our new state DOT. We don’t get any new roads around here now, certainly our new DOT would do better. With home rule maybe we could create county road departments.

Forget a state national guard, Western Carolina would go back to the old militia system. If you own a rifle, you would automatically be in the state guard of Western Carolina.

Now there will be other critical decisions to be answered. What will be the state flag, flower, animal and motto, just for starters?

Dear Editor,

I wanted to write and thank the new director and the staff at the Highlands Nature Center for a wonderful camp experience for three of our grandchildren. This is the 7th year our granddaughter has attended camp and she said it
The Survey

"Excuse me, miss, but would you like to volunteer to be a part of my survey concerning your visit to our wonderful town of Highlands?"

"Let me tell you something, buster," she responded. "If you take my picture or mention my name or identify me in any way, my husband will kill you first and me second. I guess of Mountain Fresh Grocery. He wasn't eating or drinking...just sitting there staring into the intersection."

"Excuse me, sir, may I ask you to volunteer to take a survey about the virtues of our beautiful Highlands?"

"Yeah, sit down. Maybe youse can help me. I've been here for over two hours lookin' for my ole lady. Maybe youse seen her while doing your survey."

"Finally a visitor I can help," I thought as I sat and pulled out my microphone.

"Tell me what she looks like and I'll try to remember if I've see her," I responded.

"Oh, you'll remember her. She's a real looker. Tall and thin, long bottle blond hair, bright red lipstick and a tucas like a forty dollar mule. Oh, and she's probably with a guy. I don't know what he looks like but I know he's rich."

I was stunned. This guy had to be Louie Paterno from the south side. "Wow, that's quite a description. I would remember seeing a girl like that. Well, I gotta go. My editor just called me back to the office. You have a nice day, Louie."

"How ja know my name was Louie?" he asked as I raced toward 5th Street. He grabbed me at the light and spun me around. I would not be able to outrun this guy. He was at least 40 years younger.

"Look, I don't want any trouble. You might want to hang out near Third Street. I did spot an attractive lady fitting that description. But she was alone."

Louie smiled, pulled out a wad of cash and shoved a coin in my top pocket. "What's your name, old man," Louie asked.

"Irving Lipshitz," I blurted out. "My dad was a Jewish haberdasher from the east side. You probably knew him."

Louie nodded and headed toward Third Street. My day was over.

(theoretically) the projects had to be cut to make the numbers match up.

Funds for the renovation projects are coming from a Qualified Zoned Academy Bond (QZAB) which can be loaned to the county with a zero percent interest rate. To ensure the project applications were submitted in time to receive 2015 funding and to get the projects started this summer, the applications were rushed before bids were finalized.

During a special called meeting on July 21, members of the board of education approved various changes to both projects to get the renovations back in line with the original cost estimates.

According to Superintendent Dr. Chris Baldwin, in Highlands, the LED lighting in the gym was removed from the project and instead, the Macon County Schools Maintenance Department will install the lights at a later date.

At Union Academy, planned storage areas, along with LED lighting and a new shower area were eliminated from the project to save money. The school board also elected to use carpet already purchased for the school's office areas, rather than purchasing new carpet.

Union Academy Principal Diane Cotton had also requested for new bathrooms to be constructed as well as an enclosed connecting hallway, but instead, the existing bathrooms will be renovated and the hallway will be covered rather than enclosed.

The Union Academy changes were able to save the project nearly $146,000 and allow for a $17,000 contingency fund to be in place.

Dr. Baldwin assured board members that when the projects were originally bid, the district consulted with an architect and used the same method for both formulas, so it isn't clear why there was such a difference in the bids that came in.

The Highlands School renovations are upgrading the high school wing, and according to Principal Brian Jetter, is expected to be completed by December.

“The work is confined to the high school wing, and the wing is sealed off from the rest of the school,” said Jetter. “We’ll be glad when the construction is complete, and we can use the newly renovated spaces.”

According to reports from the North Carolina Highway Patrol, Caleb’s vehicle left the road at which point it overcorrected causing the vehicle to overturn. Hugel struck Caleb’s vehicle after it turned over. Caleb was reportedly not a licensed driver.

The road was closed for four hours, with traffic being detoured through Sugarfork via Ellijay Road.

The Sloope family consisted of five children and lost their dad three years ago. Family members and friends are stepping up to care for Cameron and her three brothers and sisters. Cameron has spent the week recovering and could be released this week.

The community has also stepped up to help the Sloope family as they recover from this unthinkable tragedy. Pam and Joe Collins have set up a benefit fund at United Community Bank for the family.

Donations can be mailed directly to the bank and all staff have the information available if anyone has additional questions. The bank address is: Sloope Family Benefit Fund C/O United Community Bank 257 East Main Street, Franklin, NC 28734.

Union Academy Principal Diane Cotton is also collecting school supplies for the students for the upcoming year. Donations can be dropped off at Union Academy or South Macon Elementary in Otto.

There are two girls who are seniors, one boy in the eighth grade and one girl in the seventh grade.

Caleb was a 3rd year student at Macon Early College.

a short list of three to five candidates who will be interviewed by the full board,” said Frye.

As has happened in the past, particularly with previous Town Administrator Richard Betz who was Interim Director of Planning more than once, Frye will assume the role until Ward’s replacement is hired.

“Since I was a planner for more than 10 years before becoming a town manager, I will be handling some of the day-to-day aspects of Josh’s position during the transition,” he said.

Frye said the town will advertise locally as well with the League of Municipalities and the Association of County Commissioners. He doesn’t expect interviews to take place until late September.

Zoning has been a part of the Highlands’ picture for decades and as such its planner/zoning administrator has always played a big part in the town’s development.

“Highlands is no stranger to planning and zoning. The land use plans for the town have been around for nearly 40 years and Highlands has always had a strong planning/zoning department,” said Ward. “Planning for municipalities has been stable, for the most part, since I started here. However, over the last couple of years, we have seen a number of proposed changes introduced by the North Carolina General Assembly and several have been adopted in Highlands.”

Ward said Highlands operates with high expectations and standards, especially for the planning department. “The major change to the planning and development department over the past several years, was definitely the adoption of the Unified De-

New ‘Clothes Closet’ is set to help clothe and accessorize needy students

Macon County Schools Social Workers Annie Breedlove Wishon and Marci Holland have taken on a new project for this school year. Their goal is to start a clothing closet for all students of Macon County Schools.

Some schools already have a small clothing closet for their individual schools, however, often times more items or different sizes may be needed throughout the year.

There are many, many students in the district who are in need of various clothing items – socks, shoes, book bags, etc.

Keep in mind, Macon County Schools serves preschool through 12th grade. Therefore, all size – new or used will be accepted.

To make a donation, drop items off at any Macon County Schools campus. Annie or Marci will pick up the items and make distributions to students as necessary.

To contact Annie or Marci directly, email them at annie.wishon@macon.k12.nc.us or marci.holland@macon.k12.nc.us

HCP presents new Tony-winning comedy

“Vanya & Sonia & Masha, & Spike,” recent Broadway comedy, winner of the 2013 Tony for Best Play, opens the Highlands Cashiers Players 21st season at the Performing Arts Center on Thursday, August 27.

This extraordinary comedy by Christopher Durang won not only the Tony but also the prestigious Drama Critics Circle Award and nominations for six other Tonys. Critics have described the play as deliriously funny, hugely entertaining, comedy raised to the level of high art.

The three siblings in the play were named by their parents for characters in the plays of classic Russian playwright Anton Chekhov. Brother and sister, Vanya and Sonia, are living in the family home when sister Masha, a glamorous successful actress, now middle-aged, returns home with Spike, her much younger, sexy new companion, and announces plans to sell the house. Housekeeper Cassandra, who claims to see the future and dabbles in voodoo, joins the other two siblings in opposing the sale and warns all against a nebulous someone or something called Hootie Pie, as this first-rate comedy continues with insights into human nature and endless laughter.

HCP’s four-play season is listed on its website, highlandscashiersplayers.org. Season subscriptions are available online or by calling the box office, 828-526-8084. Tickets for Vanya go on sale for season subscribers Thursday and Friday, August 20 and 21, and for others starting Saturday, August 22.

From being met each morning by Miss Gail at the front door and then going into the new classroom to look at the displays and browse through the new books was a real treat. Highlands has so many unique opportunities for kids and we count nature camp as a must do every year. We are so fortunate to have the caliber of staff dedicated to guide our children and grandchildren and to help them understand the unique nature of our area.

Thank you also to Sonya Carpenter for her guidance in the new program.

When Bill Patti moved to Rabun County in 2009, the Highlands Playhouse was the last thing on his mind. Having just received his MFA in Acting from Kent State University, and completing a acting contract in a regional production of Peter Pan, he was moving to take the position as theatre teacher at Rabun Gap-Nacoochee School.

“The intention was to become some big, Broadway actor in New York, but fate intervened,” he said. (Fate came in the form of Brieanna Bailey, Patti’s longtime girlfriend at the time).

Brieanna was beginning a very successful choreography career and had booked a year-long contract at a major LORT theatre in the Northeast and Patti had acting jobs lined up in Buffalo, NY and in the middle of Kansas – and they were feeling grim.

“We both had these strong career paths, and were very successful. But we got on the phone one night and realized that all of it meant nothing if we couldn’t be in the same part of the country, so we made a pact to move someplace together,” Patti said. He tried to find work near Bailey in Connecticut, but was unsuccessful. Her job was a great career builder, but it couldn't support the two of them.

Finally, through a teacher recruitment agency Patti got a job offer from Rabun Gap. “We weighed our options and decided it was the best long-term fit for us. I accepted the job, moved a week later, and Brieanna met me a month after.”

While working at Rabun Gap, Patti was introduced to Scott Allbee and Joanna Baumrucker – two of the most influential... See FIRST DATE page 14
Playhouse board members. They asked Patti and Bailey if they were interested in running the children’s theatre camp in the summer of 2010. It happened to fit into their schedule that summer. During those two weeks in Highlands, the couple fell in love with the Playhouse. “There was something about the people of Highlands that inspired me. They really loved their little theatre, and the work was great. I just wanted to be a small part of that,” Patti said. The following summer Patti came on as a Director and as the Box Office Manager. He stayed in that position for the following summer and directed the hit show DAMES AT SEA. Then the Artistic Director position came open and the board immediately approached Patti. “I wanted it so bad. I had so many ideas, and I wanted to start implementing them,” Patti admitted. He came to the board with a season that really put the Playhouse back on the map – they did BUDDY HOLLY, THE 25th ANNUAL PUTNAM COUNTY SPELLING BEE, and ANNIE. “I did something that the Artistic Directors had not done for many years, I listened to the community. I tried to bring them theatre that they wanted to see. They wanted family friendly musicals and new, edgy works.” That first season was a huge success and built the path for Patti’s following years in Highlands, including this year’s hit show FIRST DATE. “FIRST DATE was a real gamble for us,” Patti said, “Its new, fresh, and really edgy.” It is not the type of show Highlands audiences are used to seeing, but so far audiences have fallen in love. “It has really been a pleasant surprise. We are trying to bring in new audiences, and expose our regular patrons to new work. People are leaving the theatre saying it is the funniest show they have ever seen in Highlands. They are comparing it to New York!” Patti’s success in growing the Playhouse has come with a multitude of opportunities to move on to other theatres. “We have had a few opportunities to branch out. There are have been some great theatres, and great financial possibilities for our family. Every time we think about leaving, though, we realize that this area has our heart,” Patti admitted. Two years ago the Patti and Bailey were blessed with twin boys. They love their families at Rabun Gap and in Highlands. “We could not think of a better place to raise our kids. The love and support they get from this community is amazing.” The future is a bright at the Playhouse, and Patti is excited to be a part of it. “Scott Allbee is a saint. He and the board have given me the opportunities to grow as an artist and be a part of something really special. Scott pushes me to work harder and bring greater work to the Playhouse stage.” Patti said referring to the Playhouse Board of Directors President. “With supporters like the Winklers, the Allbees, the Raffas, Old Edwards, the Lupolis, the Drakes, Susie Day, and Jerry Pair – and the list could go on forever -there is very little that we can not accomplish. I hope the people of Highlands are ready for the future, because we are going to knock their socks off.”

Tickets for FIRST DATE and all Highlands Playhouse Productions can be purchased by calling the Box Office at 828-526-2695. Upcoming events are listed on their website, www.highlandsplayhouse.org.

Talk to God; he’s listening

By Pastor Paul Christy
Highlands United Methodist Church

As I write to you this week I am actually away at the beach. It is amazing how busy Surf Side Beach is this time of year, kind of like Highlands.

I like to relax and take time away from my regular preaching job by piddling around our little beach place. I decided that I wanted to ceramic tile our countertops in the kitchen. Sounds very easy but what Lowe’s and I have come to realize is that it is a good thing that I am preacher because I would starve doing tile work.

After 14 trips to Lowe’s and the nice man who works in tile area said to me, “Sir, it may be a good idea to hire someone to do your work, because I have to help other people not just you.”

Well, let’s just say that my pride was hurt but I got what he was saying: I either needed to figure out what I was doing or stop. However, after calling my buddy in Highlands, I think I have finally accomplished the task of tiling the countertops at our beach place. They look good for a preacher but not a professional. But my wife is happy with them so I am finally happy.

Now you may wonder why I begin there this week? To me one of the beautiful things about God is that God never looks at us and says, “You know I have had enough of you, don’t bother me anymore.” Instead I firmly believe that God wants to hear from us, and we as people of faith call that prayer. God wants to be in a relationship with you and me. One way we are in a relationship with God is by faith call that prayer. God wants to be in a relationship with you and me. One way we are in a relationship with God is by faith call that prayer. God wants to be in a relationship with you and me.

Bob Jones Invitational Golf Tournament at HCC hits year 34

A Legend Reborn, A Legacy Renewed. The Bob Jones Invitational Golf Tournament returned to Highlands Country Club on Saturday, August 8. Highlands has featured this competitive reunion of Walker Cup players from the United States, Great Britain and Ireland for the past 34 years. The tournament is named after the legendary Robert Tyre “Bobby” Jones - history’s truly iconic golfer.

Jones preferred to be called Bob (rather than Bobby as dubbed by the press). This is the only tournament, other than the Masters, that is granted the use of the Bob Jones name, thanks to the generosity of the Jones family. Proceeds support the Highlands-Cashiers Hospital Foundation - a worthwhile legacy! The tournament was hosted by Highlands Country Club, of which Jones was an instrumental founder.

Bob Jones loved the Highlands area and spent many summers here. He helped develop the course, designed by Donald Ross, which is known today as Highlands Country Club. Jones christened the course by hitting the first ball when it opened in 1928.

After his retirement from amateur golf, Jones only played in exhibition matches to raise money for worthy causes. He even teamed with baseball great Ty Cobb in such a match to raise money for the fledgling hospital in Highlands. To date, the Bob Jones Invitational Tournament has raised over $4 million for the Highlands-Cashiers Hospital Foundation through sponsorships and donations of local participants.

The Walker Cup competition began in 1922 and is named after George Herbert Walker, the maternal grandfather of former President George H.W. Bush and great grandfather of President George W. Bush. Hence the tournament trophy is called the “Walker Cup,” which was donated by George Herbert Walker. Bob Jones was selected to play on the Walker Cup five times and served as the captain of the United States team twice.

On Saturday, August 8th, a full field of 24 Walker Cup players were joined by teams of four golfers for a one-day competition, similar to a pro-am tournament.

The point is simple; we need to talk to God. So why not try? Who knows it may change your prospective about many things and just change your life! Isn’t it great to know God never gets tired from hearing from us? I know I am glad; but if you have a countertop to tile, call a professional, not a preacher.
