Without HB13, mandate for smaller classes could result in overcrowding in MC Schools

A power struggle in the General Assembly may result in North Carolina school districts facing millions of dollars in shortfalls this fall. Two years ago, the North Carolina Senate passed legislation intended to reduce classroom sizes across the state. The legislation is set to go into effect this Fall, but comes with class size caps and no additional funding to implement the mandate. A group of local citizens rallied at the Macon County Board of Commissioners monthly meeting last week, urging commissioners to pass a resolution in support of House Bill 13 — legislation • See HB13 page 18

How President Trump’s budget will affect MC

Part 4 of a series – The ‘below the radar’ things

Macon County’s Department of Social Services Director Patrick Betancourt spoke to the Macon County Board of Commissioners last week to formally oppose the proposed federal budget cuts to the Senior Community Service Employment Program.

The federal program is one of many programs President Donald Trump identified as being cut or eliminated in order to increase spending on the nation’s defense budget.

President Trump’s budget includes a $2.5 billion cut to the Department of Labor, which would jeopardize the Senior Community Service Employment Program. Betancourt informed commissioners that funding for that program locally translates to four employees right now.

“While that may not seem like a lot, we have used funding from the Senior Community Service Employment Program to fund as many as nine positions at the senior service center,” said Betancourt “The people employed through that program help the center run. They work the reception desk, they are in the kitchen serving warm meals. They do the same work and have the same responsibilities as our other employees.”

The Senior Community Service Employment Program (SCSEP) is a federal initiative that has provided employment training to low-income Americans over 55 years old for more than 40 years. In 2015, Obama slashed the SCSEP’s funding in his budget moving the program from the Labor Department to the Department of Health and Human Services, where other programs for senior Americans are housed. Jim Seith, a director at the nonprofit National Council on Aging, one of the grantees of the SCSEP, says that the program is the only labor programs targeted at seniors in poverty.

Highlands to celebrate ‘Earth Day’ with annual litter pick up

Hope to see you at the Highlands Chamber at 9 am Saturday morning for the Plateau Litter Pickup. Everyone will be given equipment and instructions before we attack litter on the major entryways to Highlands. A wonderful picnic lunch will follow at Cliffside.

The Highlands Plateau Pickup is in conjunction with the NC DOT Spring Litter Sweep. For those folks who miss the Highlands pickup, Macon County will be doing a countywide pickup on Saturday, April 29. The US Forest Service staff and the Highlands Sanitation Department will assist in removing the bags of trash and transporting them to disposal sites.

If you do not want to go on a highway, there are many streets and areas in town that need a pickup. Simply let me, or Jennifer Cunningham of the chamber, know where you will be picking up litter. If you have questions call me at (828) 506-3138, or the Chamber at 526-2112.

There is also a Highlands Town Board meeting tonight at 7 pm at the Highlands Community Building.

Representatives from the US Postal Service will make a presentation on possible mail service to the downtown area. I encourage any business person interested in this issue to attend to hear the presentation. I do want to emphasize that discussion of this issue will not be a critique session concerning general postal service in town. The presentation and discussion will focus only on the possibility of downtown postal delivery.

The board will also do a final review and hopefully approval of the Verizon cell phone antenna contract for our Big Bear Pen tower. This new antenna will be another step in improving cell phone coverage for the town. There is a website that rates cell phone coverage in communities across the country. Currently, the rating for Highlands is not very high.

Representatives from the Highlands Food and Wine Festival will make a presentation concerning plans for this event that is scheduled for November. Plans call for the partial use of the park and a portion of Main Street. The organizers of the festival have been working with town staff for several months in coordinating the schedule and events with town requirements.

I hope for a good turnout at tonight’s meeting and/or at the Plateau Litter Pick-up on Saturday, Earth Day.

Here is an update on paving plans for next week, weather permitting. Helen’s Barn Ave. behind Wright’s Square will be repaved. When town crews ran new water and power lines to businesses and residents at Wright Square, the pavement had to be removed. Also, a major road repair will occur on Spring Street right next to 4th Street. The massive and ever growing pothole that has been patched numerous times will be repaired and covered with a new section of paving.

Installation of the new Pine Street pavers in the park is nearing completion. The street should soon be open to traffic. Also, drop by the park and see the new water feature by the big maple.
Kathryn Sue Hopper Potts passed away peacefully on April 5, 2017 in the presence of her beloved family.

Daughter of Hattie Mae Baty Hopper and Charles Jasper Hopper, Kathryn Sue was born in the Buttermilk community of Highlands, NC on January 9, 1936.

Sue was preceded in death by her parents and stepfather George Pratt McClure and by brothers Don D. Hopper, Bobbie Weaver Hopper and Roliver Gordon McClure. She is survived by brother, Colonel Mack Henry Hopper, and many nieces and nephews, as well as several beloved sisters-in-law.

In 1956, Sue married Richard Delano Potts, who preceded her in death. She is survived by daughter Katrina Dianne Potts Laverty (Tim), sons Richard Anthony (Terri), Phillip Jeffery, and Samuel Alan (Lin); grandchildren Terra Denise Potts, Jessica DeAnn Potts, Seth Michael Schmitt (Jenna), Kelsey Anne Schmitt Dockins (Travis) Carter Reece Potts, Christopher Nye (Sarah), and Kathryn Elizabeth Potts; great grandchildren Dillon and Reese Schmitt, Colton Ledbetter, Slade and Westyn Peek, and Micah Nye.

Sue will be cherished for her service to others. A teacher at Highlands School for 30 years, Mrs. Potts was fourth grade teacher to hundreds of students and remembered by many as “favorite”. For 15 years, she was owner and designer of Kanonah Florist, and had the pride and honor of preparing lovely floral arrangements for many special occasions including countless weddings, funerals, and proms. Sue was a founding member of the Highlands Historical Society and passionate about protecting the history of the small mountain town.

Sue was a strong, independent, talented, intelligent and a fierce supporter of those she loved. She loved gardening, crocheting, reading, cooking, travel, puzzles and her famous “galax roses,” but her greatest joy was spending time with her family. She loved and was greatly loved by her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, extended family and church family and will be dearly missed.

A celebration of Sue’s life will be held Sunday, April 23 at 3:30 p.m. at the United Methodist Church in Highlands, NC (315 Main St, Highlands, NC 28741). The family will receive friends prior to the service beginning at 2 p.m. A private burial will be held at a later date.

Roger Owen ‘Bootie’ Sanders

Roger Owen “Bootie” Sanders, 69, passed away Wednesday, April 12, 2017.

Mr. Sanders was born November 23, 1947 in Macon County to the late Mack Owen Sanders and Edna Mae Brendle Sanders who survives. He was preceded in death by a son, Ryan Owen Sanders. Mr. Sanders was a founding member of Franklin Vietnam Veterans of America Chapter #994 and also a member of American Legion Post #108 and Riverbend Baptist Church. He served in Vietnam, Desert Storm, and Operation Iraqi Freedom. He had received numerous awards for his military service. His military service was an important part of his life as well as his family’s life.

In addition to his mother, he is survived by his wife of 47 years, Carol Ann Speed Sanders, two sons, Rodney Sanders and his wife Renee of Franklin, NC and Russell Sanders and daughter-in-law Sara Beth Sanders of Sylva, NC; five grandchildren, Nathan, Katie, Nicholas, Luke and Emily Sanders; daughter in law, Laura Sanders; two sisters, Joyce Carpenter and Brenda Delgato (Sam); mother in law, Irene Speed of Franklin, NC and niece, Christie Stanfield (Mike).

One of his legacies that will live on is the deep sense of patriotism and love of country that he instilled in his children. To the Sanders, the National Guard was an extended family. There are so many fond memories that the children have growing up and participating in all of the activities and picnics on weekends with the 210th. The commitment to this way of life also saw the reality of deployment which happened twice after Vietnam. As any military family knows, these deployments create a unique situation for the family left behind. Our family was blessed to have Roger return safely home on multiple occasions. This intense patriotism was also passed to his grandchildren who saw papaw as a hero. The kids loved hearing his stories and going to the military parades with papaw.

Papaw was a title that he was proud to hold. The kids loved to hang out with him in “the building” next to the garden where he was always taking something apart, starting seeds, or redesigning his lawnmowers. He was also a proud father, husband, son, father in law and brother. He was always there for his family and friends anytime they needed him and always came through for them.

He loved to work in the yard, garden and he especially loved to mow to which his neighbors can surely attest. He loved to go to the Normandie in the mornings and socialize with friends. We never believed him when he told us that he just went to have coffee and didn’t eat anything. Even a trip to the VA could be fun for Roger. He always went with Jerry or another vet buddy and they enjoyed the trip often stopping for lunch. He enjoyed researching genealogy and was in the process of restoring his father’s car. He could fix or build anything and was always in high demand. He will leave a void in so many lives.

A funeral service will be held Saturday, April 15th at 12:00 pm at Riverbend Baptist Church, with the Rev. Roy Lowe, Rev. Tommy Fouts, and Rev. Brian Holland officiating. Burial will be at Watauga Baptist Church Cemetery with full military rites. Franklin Vietnam Veterans of America will serve as pallbearers.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to Franklin Vietnam Veterans of America, 203 Sloan Road, Franklin, NC 28734 or to Wounded Warrior Project, PO Box 758517, Topeka, Kansas 66675 8517.

The family will receive friends from 6:00 to 8:00 pm Friday evening at Bryant Grant Funeral Home and Crematory. Online condolences may be made at bryantgrantfuneralhome.com. Bryant Grant Funeral Home and Crematory is serving the Sanders family.

The Trump administration justified cutting the program by claiming that the SCSEP is ineffective on the grounds that only half of the program’s participants successfully transition to unsubsidized employment. But given the participants’ demographic — they’re low-income senior citizens, some of whom were unemployed for long stretches before the program — experts like Seith say those numbers are good. He also highlights the fact that participants in the program provide some 40 million hours of volunteer time at public and nonprofit organizations.

Betancourt noted that the program provides adults with much more than training; it provides a sense of responsibility and belonging that is often lost at that stage in life. It also helps older adults keep up with changes in the workforce such as technological advances. If programs like the SCSEP are eliminated, pundits believe that those adults will have fewer options and will turn to government assistance to make ends meet.

The SCSEP is just one of many community centered programs targeted as causalities in the President’s budget. Commissioner Ronnie Beale said federal cuts that would impact local residents include proposed cuts to the Community Block Grants (CDBG), the Weatherization Assistance Program, and the low-income home energy assistance program.

“The programs that have been identified to be cut are going to negatively affect our oldest citizens and our lowest income citizens — two groups that need help the most because of their limited resources,” said Beale.

CDBG is a series of block grants made to states and municipalities. Local organizations parcel out the funds, which are integral to the operation of many community-based non-profits. They include local groups that provide meals to seniors, daycare centers for people of low income (many local Head Start programs, for example), network revitalization, economic development, infrastructure and public services, and more. According to Beale, much of rural Western North Carolina will feel the impact of the cuts because everything from feeding seniors to economic development in the region are supported through community block grants.

The Weatherization Assistance Program, or WAP, a grant program housed under the Department of Energy that helps states improve the energy efficiency of the homes of low-income families, was first established in 1976 and has been used to aid more than seven million families since. The “weatherization” process generally involves making basic improvements to homes that cut down on their energy use — for instance, sealing up holes in walls and windows, adding insulation or replacing heating and cooling equipment.

Commissioner Beale recognized that Trump’s budget is just the beginning and Congress will soon be releasing its budget proposals, which according to Congressman Mark Meadows, will include an increase in funding for the country’s defense budget and to build a wall around the border of Mexico, but won’t hurt rural America as much as being projected.

The Rotary Club of Highlands welcomed Nick Bazan, Chairman of Friends of Founders Park, to the April 11, 2017 meeting. Nick gave a wonderful overview of the history of Founders Park. What started as an idea in 1994 is now an asset of Highlands for its residents and guests to enjoy for generations to come. Nick thanked the individuals, organizations, the Town of Highlands and Macon County for all the support over the years that made Founders Park become a reality. This fundraiser was thoughtfully planned by a committee comprised of five Cashiers residents: Sharon Bissell, Carol Hunter, Peter Keck, Bill Trotter, and Hospice House Board member, Tania Duncombe.

Hospice House Foundation of WNC is a 501(c)3 organization whose mission is to raise funds for a hospice inpatient facility for the far western region of North Carolina (including the counties of Macon, Jackson, Swain, Graham, Clay, and Cherokee) and northeast Georgia. Western North Carolina’s demographics speak volumes of the need for a hospice inpatient facility... roughly 25% of our area’s population is 65 or older; yet the closest hospice houses are over an hour’s drive for most people. The proposed hospice house will help ensure life’s final journey is one of compassion, comfort and dignity for the people of our mountain region.

Hospice House Foundation of WNC has raised $2.7 million towards its $5 million goal for its Capital project (including $1.3 million in challenge grants). Contingent on fundraising success, the new Hospice House in Franklin could begin serving patients as early as 2019.

To learn more about Hospice House Foundation of WNC or their May 10th dining event, visit www.hhfwnc.org. You may also call Phyllis Racine for reservations and information - 828-524-8261. Donations in support of the Foundation’s important initiative may be in the form of cash, 3-5 year pledges, stock/bonds, or planned gifts (bequests). For cash gifts, make checks payable to: Hospice House Foundation of WNC, P.O. Box 815, Franklin, NC 28744. Donations may also be made on line at www.hhfwnc.org.

At PAC, live via satellite MET Opera: Eugene Onegin

The Highlands Performing Arts Center will present Live via Satellite the MET Opera’s production of Eugene Onegin by Tchaikovsky on Saturday, April 22 at 12:55pm. Beverly Wichman will lead a pre-opera discussion beginning at 12:30pm. Anna Netrebko reprises one of her most acclaimed roles as Tatiana, the naïve heroine of Tchaikovsky’s opera, adapted from Pushkin’s classic novel. Dmitri Hvorostovsky stars as the title character, who rejects Tatiana’s love until it’s too late. Robin Ticciati, Music Director of Glyndebourne Festival Opera, conducts the revival of Deborah Warner’s staging, which opened the Met’s 2013-14 season. Alexey Dolgov sings the role of Onegin’s friend-turned-rival, Lenski, with Elena Maximova as Tatiana’s sister Olga and Štefan Kocán as Prince Gremin. Tickets are available online: www.highlandspac.org – at the door or by calling 828-526-9047 Highlands Performing Arts Center, 507 Chestnut Street, Highlands NC

6 Ways to Update Home Décor this Spring

(StatePoint) Spring is the perfect time to re-evaluate your home’s décor and color palette. After the long winter season, interiors often need a facelift.

Get inspired to freshen up your home with these six 2017 décor trends from interior designer and DIY television personality, Taniya Nayak.

1. Add timeless touches. Tasteful updates can help create an elegant family room that will never go out of style. Display heirlooms and vintage-inspired items, such as traditional candle holders or a vase, and pair with a modern color scheme such as white or navy, to achieve a tailored and timeless look in your living room.

2. Apply modern morphing techniques. Morph a wide-open space together with bold colors and patterns that help bridge the gap between rooms. Accomplish this with a large piece of geometric artwork or by utilizing color-blocking techniques to paint an accent wall, which tricks the eye as to where one room ends and another begins.

Before painting an accent wall, it’s important to tape off windows, doorways and trim to prevent splatter. One of the most important tools for any painting project is a premium painter’s tape, such as FrogTape brand painter’s tape, which is treated with patented PaintBlock Technology to help ensure your work looks seamless and to deliver the sharpest transition lines between the newly painted accent wall and adjacent walls.

3. Interweave textures and bold patterns. Be bold and embrace this indie-meets-mid-century trend to add character to a space. An easy way to attain this look is by pairing patterned pillows with deep, intense colors from an area rug. Or, take it one step further and create a wall design comprised of overlapping paint using rich shades such as blue, pink or red, for a truly authentic look.

4. Create luscious layers. Allow yourself to feel wrapped in luxury with this emerging trend. When creating a peaceful nest,

Creative Gardening Tips for the Spring Season

(StatePoint) Gardeners often focus on the science of their hobby: how much water and sunlight their plants need and how to improve soil quality and keep pests at bay. But there can be a lot of artistry behind the craft as well – from how you harvest and enjoy flowers to how you convert unused spaces of your home into a viable indoor edible garden.

Put your creativity to good use this spring season by gardening with style.

Indoor Gardening

For those who don’t have an outdoor garden or yard, the dream of enjoying your own freshly picked fruits and vegetables may seem out of reach. However, the nooks and crannies of your home can be creatively rendered into productive growing zones. And experts say that nearly all homes can support indoor gardening.

“Whatever the size of your home, there will be a selection of edible plants you can grow indoors, as long as you have some natural daylight filtering in,” says Zia Allaway, author of “Indoor Edible Garden: Creative Ways to Grow Herbs, Fruit and Vegetables in Your Home.” “The areas where plants will grow can be windowsills, beneath a skylight or even in a dark, unlit area if you install grow lights.”

In “Indoor Edible Garden,” a highly visual guide full of practical tips and stylish ideas, Allaway offers step-by-step directions for everything from creating suspended shelves and hanging jars for growing herbs to mounting edible orchids onto bark and displaying them on walls. She points out that those embarking on indoor gardening should first evaluate the level of time they can commit.

“Just remember that unlike other projects in the home, such as decorating and cooking, all gardening projects require some aftercare. So, if you have a busy schedule, choose crops that will tolerate less watering and feeding.”

Flower Arranging

While your flower garden is likely a beautiful work of art in and of itself, you can spread the joy by harvesting your flora and bringing the beauty indoors. Floral arrangements add vitality to any interior space.

“For me, every arrangement starts with the container. Think about what mood or style you want to evoke, and remember, anything can be a container as long as it can be made watertight,” says Rachel Siegfried, author of “The Flower Book: Natural Flower Arrangements for Your Home,” which explores 60 flowers, bloom-by-bloom in portraiture, including quick-reference profiles and tips.

Siegfried recommends that, when selecting flowers

- Thinking Bridge: Play of the Hand
The Highlands Writers Group (HWG) is pleased to announce publication of their first anthology of creative writing. Highlands Writers: A Collection from the Highlands Writers Group features poetry, short fiction, memoirs, and original artwork from members of the group.

“We are thrilled,” said HWG leader, Linda Anderson, author of four novels and, So Late, So Soon, a recently published collection of vignettes about women in the process of aging. “I believe people who buy a copy of the anthology will be delighted at the quality work our local and seasonal residents have submitted.”

The anthology will officially be launched at a Hot Off the Press party, reading, and book signing at the Ugly Dog Pub, Friday, May 12th from 3 to 5pm. Net proceeds from sales of the anthology benefit the Hudson Library.

The anthology is dedicated to Anne Doggett, a founding member of the Highlands Writers Group. The group meets every Thursday at the Hudson Library at 1:30pm. Writers engage in exercises, readings and what Linda Anderson calls “constructive encouragement” in a workshop setting. Writers at all levels are encouraged to attend. There are no charges for participation.

immerse yourself in layers by integrating different textures and soft patterns in colors, such as blush pinks, creams and soft grays. Start by adding blankets and sheer drapery. Place a rug on top of carpet. Finish the look with ruffled pillows or a faux fur throw for a space that is cozy and chic.

5. DIY haute homemade projects. Elevate your home with handmade personal touches that bring comfort and warmth into a room. Go bold and paint stripes on an area rug, or give flea market finds a chic update with metallic paint. If you want to start small, try transforming an ordinary basic wall with fresh white paint. For professional looking results, you can use FrogTape brand painter’s tape to achieve a crisp line.

6. Incorporate nature’s influence. Integrate fresh flowers and surprising pops of color, like yellow or teal, with natural finishes, such as wood, to create an unexpected yet whimsical look. Or create a statement accent piece by painting a nature-inspired pattern like florals or feathers. All you need is paint and painter’s tape to DIY a look that brings nature’s outdoor influence inside.

With a little less chill in the air these days, there is an excitement that springs forth in Highlands. Tourists arrive in shorts and locals put away their down jackets but know we may still get a precipitation surprise!

We have had snow in April and flowers we were determined to plant became little icicles. Still anticipation of a glorious summer grows.

Easter Sunday inspired me to think about my role as a real estate broker and clients’ needs.

With our aging population of sellers, their needs are different from those in bigger cities such as Atlanta and Tampa.

Many are selling for health reasons which breaks my heart but it becomes my mission to help them accordingly.

Some sellers have created family memories here for generations but it is time to move on.

Upkeep and maintenance have become a burden and kids are too busy with their own lives to keep up two houses. My role is to help sell in the shortest time possible, hoping Spring and Hope Eternal meet that goal.

I love getting to know my sellers and discussing their needs...they are all different and deserve time and energy to make it happen in a timely manner.

I listen to emotional stories from the past and feel the love for our magical town that continues to get better and better with age.

I also am seeing a trend where younger people are looking for second homes here and retirees are desiring to make Highlands their primary residence.

Just as days of sadness led to Easter, the excitement and joy of a new beginning and the promise of hope prevail. Birds are chirping outside my window and the morning sun is glorious.

Highlands is a magical place and I’m so glad to call it my home for 23 years. Wishing you all a glorious spring and flowers that live and bloom.

Surely you know what this is. I define it as random thoughts flitting in out of my brain when I’m busily working, thoughts that don’t resurface when I might have a chance to act on them, but instead when I’m busily working once again. I just happened to write down FBS one day when it flashed through my mind, and that’s the only reason I can now capture the syndrome in a column. Now, tell me, are you also picturing that old ad campaign from the ’80s, “Your Brain on Drugs?” That image of a fried egg seems apropos here too.

My poor dog is suffering as a result of my FBS. He occasionally shakes his head in my office, and I think, “Uh-oh, he’s got ear mites again; I need to get his medicine.” The medicine, however, is downstairs in the laundry room, not upstairs in my office. Has he been treated in the last week? Of course not. Similarly, I often hear what I call the “bathroom gremlins,” the toilet briefly running when no one is around, and I think, “I need to speak with her about the rug, I’ll explain that idea.” This could go on for months at this rate.

When I’m twisting my hair into a bun each morning, I remember that I have an appointment with my hairdresser in a few weeks and am ready to have my hair chopped off chin length again. To follow through on that idea, I need to surf the internet for some style photos. Do I remember that when I’m sitting at my desk in front of my computer all day long? What do you think? No, I think of it again the next morning in front of the mirror.

My husband and I were joking just this morning about the saying, “Mind like a steel trap.” We decided ours were no longer steel and were more likely aluminum. We think the next phase is “mind like tin foil.” Or perhaps it’s this saying I found online, “My Mind is like a steel trap…rusted shut.” When we both reach that phase—no matter what we call it--we’ll be in serious trouble.

In North Carolina, funding for classroom teachers is provided by a position allotment. Under a position allotment, the state provides each school district a set number of teachers based on the number of students at particular grade levels in each district. For instance, the allotment ratio for kindergarten is one teaching position for every 18 kindergarten students.

The resolution presented to commissioners supports HB13, which was cosponsored in the House of Representatives by Rep. Kevin Corbin. The bill unanimously passed the House of Representatives on February 16 and was then sent to the Senate for consideration. Despite a unanimous vote in the House to pass the legislation, members of the Senate won’t even consider it, which is something Senator Jim Davis doesn’t think is going to change.

Senator Davis and his colleagues in the Senate are adamant that local school districts haven’t been held accountable in the past for how they have spent funding previously allocated toward lowering class sizes. Macon County Schools Superintendent Dr. Chris Baldwin disagrees.

While the Senate has sent funding to districts to lower classroom sizes in K-3, the funding came with the flexibility to not only fund additional classroom teachers, but it could also be spent to hire specialty teachers in art, music, PE, and foreign languages, which Dr. Baldwin said has been done in Macon County.

If HB13 isn’t passed in the Senate, Dr. Baldwin warns that Macon County is looking at having to hire 5-6 new teachers at a cost of $350,000-$400,000 or eliminating special curriculum teachers in PE, music, or art in the district.

In addition, the additional $350,000 needed to comply with the mandate doesn’t include funds for new construction costs, which would be needed for additional classrooms. Dr. Baldwin says constructing new classrooms would not be feasible by the 2017-18 school year start date in August.

So, to meet the mandate of lowering the teacher-student ratio in Macon County — without any additional class space — Macon County would have to combine classes as suggested by Senator Davis.

The new law would change the limit on average class sizes from 16 to 18, depending on the grade, and the maximum number of students per class would be 19 to 21 per teacher.

Senator Davis said to avoid building new schools but still meet the requirement, school districts could combine classrooms. That would mean combined, there could be up to 42 students in one classroom, with two teachers; thereby satisfying the state mandate while not having to build new schools or expand existing ones.

Though it may seem ludicrous to cram 42 students and two teachers and possibly two teacher assistants into one classroom, Dr. Baldwin said if HB13 isn’t passed, that may be the only possibility for Macon County schools.

Commissioners said they would speak to Rep. Corbin about the resolution, which mirrors similar resolutions passed by local school boards and boards of commissioners across the state, and will vote on passing the resolution on April 25 during the board’s continuation meeting.

Rep. Corbin said he supports the resolution and appreciates the support of the district and HB13. Corbin remains hopeful the Senate will at least discuss the legislation, and believes it is possible.
God’s Plan of Salvation

Pastor Sam Forrester
Whiteside Presbyterian Church, Cashiers

“And this is the testimony: God has given us eternal life, and this life is in his Son. He who has the Son has life; he who does not have the Son of God does not have life” (1 John 5:11-12).

In these words, we find that God gives eternal life and this life is found in his Son, Jesus Christ. What this means is that the way to possess eternal life is to possess God’s Son. What this brings to the mind of all thinking men is why do I need the Son and how can I have the Son of God?

Man is faced with a problem when it comes to possessing the Son. “But your iniquities have separated you from your God; your sins have hidden his face from you, so that he will not hear” (Isaiah 59:2). Why do you need the Son? Why can’t you just earn your place with God? Adam when he failed in the Garden left all men descended from him by ordinary generation dead in their sins and trespasses (Ephesians 2:1). They were cut off from God without any hope of restoration to their Creator.

What can possibly over come this situation? “But God demonstrates his own love for us in this; While we were still sinners, Christ died for us” (Romans 5:8). Through the death of his Son, God demonstrated his love for his people. Christ came and died for those the Father gave to him (John 6:37) in order to pay the price for their guilt and sin. According to Romans 3:23 all men sinned and fell short of the glory of God. They were separated from God with no way of their own to repair that breach.

What can man do? He cannot do enough works to earn his forgiveness. Because of Adam’s fall in the Garden all his progeny are dead in their sins and trespasses (Ephesians 2:1). In Romans 1:18-3:8 the apostle explains that all men, Jews and Gentiles, are under sin. He declares in Romans 3:10 “there is no one righteous, not even one.” Therefore, for there to be any hope of salvation for man God had to do something extraordinary.

That event was the sending of his only begotten Son into this world to do for man what he could never do for himself. Jesus came to live the perfect life the law required, to die the atoning death needed to bring forgiveness, and to win the resurrection victory to defeat death on the behalf of his people. According to Romans 1:4 Jesus was by his resurrection declared to be the true Son of God, the one with the power to effect the salvation of the souls of men. Romans 4:25 says he took on our punishment and died in our place to open for us justification before God. II Corinthians 5:21 says God took this one (Jesus Christ) who knew no sin and...

made him to be sin for us so that in him we would become the righteousness of God.

Because of what Jesus accomplished in his life, death and resurrection the apostle John says “He who has the Son has life.” How do you receive the Son? You receive him as your personal Savior by a personal faith, by trusting in the person of Christ and his death for your sins.

God opens the heart and gives new life to his people in Jesus Christ (Ephesians 2:4-5). With this new life you can see yourself for the sinner you are and know your need of a savior. You will then be enabled by the grace of God to call out to God for the help you so desperately need and he will answer and save your soul, Ephesians 2:8-10.

God’s plan of salvation is to save the souls of everyone who comes to recognize their sin and their need of salvation through Jesus Christ and through him alone. This is his testimony: “For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son, that whoever believes in him shall not perish but have everlasting life.” Hear this message, believe it with all your heart, repent of your sins and stand fast in your faith that Jesus Christ is the one and only Savior of the souls of men.
