Main St. to be repaved starting April 1

Plan involves new streetscape down center of Main prior to DOT paving

At last Thursday’s Town Board meeting, an announcement by Town Manager Josh Ward that NC DOT plans to repave Main Street the Spring of 2019 initiated discussion about accelerating plans to renovate the entire streetscape. According to Ward and Mayor Pat Taylor, DOT’s 25-year paving plan will involve milling – taking up anywhere from 2-23 inches of asphalt.

The NC 106 project is dead

During Sept. 20 Town Board meeting, Mayor Pat Taylor spoke his mind.

It’s hard to say which issue riled him the most – the “modernization” of NC 106, tractor-trailers on the Gorge Road, the Hospital Corporation of America (HCA) acquisition of Mission Health, or the bear/people dumpster problem in town.

NC 106

As it turns out, at the Southwestern Rural Planning Organization meeting Monday night, Sept. 24, at which Mayor Taylor chaired, the NC 106 improvement project was nixed.

Staying in the funding pipeline depended on the number of points the project was given in various categories – public comment, environmental, economic development and safety. A project could get up to 100 points. The NC 106 project got 17.63 local points but zero quantitative points, therefore it is no longer in the pipeline.

Instead, attention and the monies for those projects could possibly come from another DOT account and could be recycled later.

The Gorge Road

Though not on the agenda, also at the Southwestern Rural Planning Organization meeting Monday night, MC Commissioner Ronnie Beale and Taylor were able to talk to NC DOT Division Engineer Brian Burch about the problem of tractor-trailers traveling up and down the Gorge Road.

“Brian Burch agreed that this needs to be addressed,” said Taylor. “He acknowledged that what’s in place now – the signage and the turnaround – isn’t working.”

Highlands School continues to ‘exceed’

For the fourth year out of the last five years, Highlands School exceeded the state’s projected academic growth.

At the September Macon County Schools board meeting held at Highlands School, students in the 4th and 5th grades opened the meeting with the Pledge of Allegiance. When in Highlands, the School Board meetings are held in the school’s Media Center.

Main Street improvements and HCA purchase

Tonight the Highlands Town Board is having a special meeting at the Highlands Civic Center. In case folks may be confused by the location, it’s the building in front of the swimming pool.

Two issues are on the agenda. At 5 p.m., the board will review the DOT paving plans for Main Street, including 4th Street going out to Buck Creek Road on US 64, and going to Clear Creek on NC 107. The repaving project will cost just under five million dollars. The Main Street section, starting at 1st and going to 4th street, will begin early in April and be completed by Memorial Day. The other sections will continue into June.

At 7 p.m., the board will review the current resolution that I presented at the September Town Board meeting concerning the acquisition of the Highlands Cashiers Hospital. The resolution was tabled until tonight so representatives from the hospital and foundation could come to address the items in the resolution. At the meeting, time will be allocated for Mission folks to address their concerns followed by Q & A and discussion.

As I stated at the last board meeting, everyone, including the hospital folks and the Town Board, are concerned about long-term healthcare access for this community. There are no “good and bad guys” in regard to this issue. Community leaders seek the common goal of insuring healthcare access.

I met with hospital and foundation representatives last Friday. While I still don’t embrace all of their positions, and am skeptical about some outcomes, I appreciate the hard work and due diligence that they have devoted to this process. They have had to face difficult challenges. When it comes to modern healthcare there are no simple issues. I really appreciate volunteer leaders who have been willing to deal with the pressure of making these hard decisions.

As the resolution states, I and the board are not against the sale of the hospital. It is very likely the Attorney General Stein will approve the sale. My concern centers around insuring services continue during the five- and ten-year commitment. And, finally, if HCA were to sell the hospital campus, we want assurances that community organizations would have the first option to obtain the facility and continue to provide healthcare access to the community.

Mayor Taylor ‘gets it’ on road issues

Dear Editor,

Just want to say thanks to Mayor Taylor for his sensitivity to the residents of Highlands.

I am referring to his response to two highway issues. DOT plans for NC 106 and US 64 west along the gorge.

Having dealt with DOT in Florida and previously in NC, I understand that they take an approach of “one size fits all” and have little room for understanding the needs and desires of communities who differ substantially from their designs. This is where a sensitive Mayor can and did step in. Leave NC 106 alone and put up better signage was Mayor Taylor’s response. Thank you, Mayor.

I might add one more suggestion, take photos of the driver getting a citation and publicize it on trucker websites.

Guns. There, I’ve said it. Why don’t you write something about guns, Bud?” I’ve been asked that question more than a couple of times.

Since starting Word Matter I’ve aimed for balance. Simply shouting an opinion has downsides. First, I’m bound to upset at least half the audience. Second, since I’m neither an absolutist nor stridently dogmatic, my opinions tend to come with some degree of nuance. Nuance upsets some people. Sorry. It’s how I’m wired.

“You’re a mugwump” they say. “Come on, dude, take a side.”

It’s not that easy. Yes, I’m a mugwump. I’m not affiliated with any political party and I believe very few issues are either simple or easy when you actually unpack them.

So, guns. To quote the U.S. Constitution on the matter, “A well-regulated Militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed.”

Let me say from the outset, I believe the Second Amendment is, as constitutionalists put it, “settled law.” The right to keep and bear arms by individual Americans is NOT going to be repealed, nor should it be. That said, and as I’ve said in this space before, nothing in the Bill of Rights is absolute. There are limits on all the amendments, including #2. For example, legal precedent prohibits individual ownership of many weapons, especially weapons of war.

America is exceptional among the nations of the world in how we address private gun ownership. Thanks to a large, vocal individual gun-rights community, and to an active, well-funded industry trade association, gun ownership by individual Americans is a valued tradition and, as a purely practical matter, nigh impossible to undo. And, once again, there’s no reason to confiscate guns owned by individual, law-abiding Americans.

But Americans are weary of gun violence in general and with what seems to be an ongoing practice by individuals, who legally purchase certain types of weapons, from walking into places where other Americans should feel safe, and opening fire.

When James Madison wrote the Second Amendment he was simply putting into words a practice which had been time tested during the over 200 years prior to ratification of the Constitution. He didn’t begin, but the contract will stipulate that the Main Street portion be completed by May 25th,” said Ward. “This includes all parking spaces and areas around planters so there will be disruption.”

Paving Main Street from 4th to 5th streets in not part of the plan that will begin April 1.

Meanwhile, in the works for months now, has been a plan to revamp the Main Street streetscape to soften its appearance so it doesn’t look and feel like one big parking lot.

“We want to completely revamp Main Street from the way it is now,” said Commissioner Eric Pierson who with Commissioner John Dotson sits on the public works committee. “This will make Main Street 100% better than it is right now.”

The plan, which will be discussed in full at a special didn’t meet projected growth which means it will be labeled a “low performing school” by the state.

As for middle schools, Macon Middle School got a “B” joining the 20.2% in the state; it also exceeded growth; joining 30.4% in the state.

Mountain View Intermediate got a “C” like 45.9% of others in the state but it met its projected growth at the 38th percentile.

As for high schools, Macon Early College joined 21.3% of schools in the state to get an “A,” a first for Macon County Schools. It met its growth projection like 37.8% of high schools in the state.

Highlands School and Franklin High School both got a “B” joining 37.8% of schools in the state. However, Highlands School is the only high school in the county to exceed growth – the fourth time in five years.

“The fact that Highlands School exceeded growth again is exceptional said Superintendent Dr. Baldwin. “That it has been able to maintain that level of achievement is remarkable.”

Nantahala High School got a “C” joining 33.1% of schools in the state. Franklin, Nantahala and MEC met expectations.

Macon County schools were 30th in the state for End-of-Course and End-of-Grade tests; up from 2016-’17 which was 38th and 46th in 2015-’16. Baldwin said the school system is “definitely moving in the right direction.”

Statewide Macon County’s 8th grade scores were the strongest – 11th in the state. Overall, Macon County schools’ end-of-course grades ranked 47th this year – up from 61st last year.

ACT test scores fell this year landing at the state average compared to 8.7 points above state average in 2016-’17.

The high school graduation rate was at 91.2% for 2017-’18; North Carolina’s graduation rate was 86.3%.

called meeting Thursday, Sept. 27 in the Civic Center at 5 p.m., will include a “ribbon” of plantings down the center of the street so vehicles going west can pull in and vehicles going east can pull in.

“This will eliminate the ‘pulling through’ problem we have now,” said Commissioner Dotson.

At least in one plan, an additional crosswalk is planned for the middle of the street – in addition to the crosswalks at the end of each leg.

In addition, the parking configuration will be altered; however, commissioners said only 3-4 parking spaces will be lost.

Commissioners agreed the plan would have to be decided upon and implemented quickly so it is in place prior to DOT’s start date of April 1.

and couldn’t, at that time, envision automatic and semi-automatic rifles, fast-action handguns, and other modern weapons designed with the single overriding purpose of killing other people.

Even the NRA, the National RIFLE Association, wasn’t established as a “gun rights” organization when it was formed in 1871. Its original purpose was to advance rifle marksmanship. It was another 63-plus years before it began advocating for gun ownership. The NRA actually supported the National Firearms Act of 1934 and the Federal Firearms Act of 1938, both of which would be condemned today as setting oppressive limits on the manufacture, sale and ownership of guns. It wasn’t until 1977, in reaction to the Gun Control Act of 1968, that the NRA began vehemently and successfully opposing even reasonable regulations on guns, such as age restrictions, gun registration and deep background checks for ownership of certain types of weapons.

This is an emotion-charged issue for Americans on both sides of the conversation. Gun rights advocates are against any real or perceived “infringement” of their right to keep and bear all the guns they want. Gun control advocates believe there are too many guns already in circulation and support banning weapons used in mass shootings in recent years. The extremists on both sides make so much noise it’s difficult to have a sensible conversation about something on which reasonable compromise could mean a great deal in terms of both safety for individuals and the legitimate rights of gun owners.

As is often the case, I see plenty of room for agreement if only people on both extremes would STOP SHOUTING AT ONE ANOTHER. Gun rights advocates must stop claiming that any regulation stifles the intent of the Second Amendment. It doesn’t. There are no state armies in America, and so-called private militias, allowed in some states, are heavily regulated.

Gun control advocates must stop calling for confiscation of ALL privately owned guns. Simply put, confiscation is both illegal under the Second Amendment, and impractical by any measurement. It’s not going to happen.

I doubt mine will be the last word on this combustible issue. But I do believe there’s room for calm discussion upon which both sides can agree: something must be done to curb gun violence and mass shootings in America.

There’s nothing like feeling “organized.” It takes the strain and stress away and replaces it with the peace and calm of feeling in control!

At Organization Unlimited, we can make this happen whether you are a full-time resident, a seasonal resident or the owner of business too busy to streamline your office.

For seasonal residents, getting ready for your trip home, Organization, Unlimited will make the phone calls, help you plan the most efficient way to pack the car and/or cartons for shipping in advance of your departure, as well as help you plan for your return for the holidays or next spring. What you might consider a burden, we consider fun!

Plus, in advance of your return, we can reverse the process and get everything geared up again to welcome you back, whether for fall or winter holidays or spring!

We also coordinate and work with homeowners who don’t have the time to deal with contractors and designers. We can get the house ready for remodeling rooms and/or offices by helping to sort, purge, pack, label, inventory and then return to unpack, refine the purge, and properly position all the items involved.

We also can assist party and event planners needing to rearrange a room or rooms and remove homeowner’s personal items that have to be stored temporarily for an event. We’ll pack, label, inventory all items as required. And, if the homeowner elects, we can help with sorting, purging, etc., after the event is over.

For Real Estate companies, we take care of those listings that need some editing so that prospective buyers can see the good bones of the house instead of the collections of a lifetime of travel and family inherited treasures?

We’ll help the seller sort, purge and pack up for donation, sale, or storage, items not needed for the sale process. Then, we’ll follow up with an interior designer’s eye for traffic flow, view enhancement and serenity to provide the WOW for the right first impression.

Attract Beautiful Songbirds to Your Backyard

(StatePoint) Did you know that you can create a safe haven for wild song birds in your own backyard? By taking a few simple actions, you can provide birds with vital resources they need to thrive, as well as guard them from common flying hazards.

Protect Them

Before inviting birds to your yard and garden with food and habitat, first take measures to protect them. Unfortunately, millions of birds die annually by striking glass, making the windows and glass doors of your home a potential safety hazard. Help reduce the risk of bird strikes by applying special decals that reflect ultraviolet sunlight from your home's windows, particularly those highly reflective of open sky. Virtually invisible to humans, they keep birds safe without affecting your view.

The ones offered by WindowAlert, for example, give the appearance of slightly frosted translucent glass, but glow like a stoplight for birds. For fuller protection, supplement the decals with WindowAlert UV Liquid, making marble-sized dots to create a “visual barrier” across glass surfaces. To learn more, visit WindowAlert.com.

You can limit other hazards to birds by ensuring cats, dogs and other predatory (but otherwise adorable) pets are monitored while outside to prevent attacks. Dogs can be trained not to attack birds. If this proves to be an issue, consider consulting a professional dog trainer on how to break this bad habit.

Feed Them

Birds in transit expend a lot of energy, but you can ease their hunt for food. Avoid the temptation to feed birds yesterday’s bread. Stale breads that have developed mold could be potentially harmful to birds.

Instead, populate your garden with native flowering species and supply a bird feeder stocked with a variety of seeds. Strategic placement of a bird feeder is key in preventing bird strikes. Place your feeder either closer than three feet or farther than 30 feet from windows. Clean your feeder periodically to ensure its contents are fresh and free of potentially toxic mold.

Want to beautify your backyard naturally? By taking a few simple measures, you will give birds an incentive to visit!

ty met for their quarterly meeting – this time in Highlands – and as a coalition, agreed to present a resolution to NC Rep. Kevin Corbin stressing the importance of solving the “tractor-trailer on the Gorge Road” problem.

Various solutions include flashing signs in Highlands so truckers know to turn down NC 106 instead of proceeding down the Gorge Road as well as flashing lights on 441 and again at the turnaround on the Highlands Road, so truckers know not to proceed up the Gorge Road to Highlands.

“I believe with this coalition, something can be done,” said Taylor.

HCA/Mission Health

At a special called Town Board meeting tonight in the Civic Center at 7 p.m., the Town Board will meet with H-C Hospital Foundation board members and members of Mission’s H-C Hospital to discuss the terms of the HCA acquisition.

At last Thursday’s Town Board meeting, Mayor Taylor requested permission to send a letter to the NC Attorney General in conjunction with the resolution the town wants to send itemizing its concerns outlined in the Asset Purchase Agreement (APA) between Mission Health and HCA.

However, at the urging of H-C Foundation Chairman Dr. Walter Clark, the board agreed to table the letter until the three entities can go over the terms outlined in the APA so everyone understands its implications, thereby correcting the resolution and subsequent letter to everyone’s satisfaction prior to sending it on to the AG.

What’s most concerning to the Town Board is what happens to the H-C Hospital complex if in five or ten years HCA doesn’t see the bottom line it desires and it decides to sell the property.

“If HCA were to sell the hospital campus, we want assurances that community organizations would have the first option to obtain the facility and continue to provide healthcare access to the community,” said Taylor.

Mayor Taylor is also concerned that if no one steps forward to purchase the hospital to run as a healthcare facility, the property could become a shopping center or the like.

Commissioner Dotson, who was against tabling the resolution, said he wanted a guarantee that a healthcare facility would be here forever.

“I don’t believe Mission has been forthcoming as far as the sale was concerned until it absolutely had to. I have no faith whatsoever that this hospital will be here 10 years from now as a hospital. I, too, would like to see it last forever,” he said.

He went on to say he will only support whatever it takes to continue the hospital.

Commissioner Donnie Calloway said he is still miffed that neither the hospital nor the foundation board notified the Town Board of its intentions to sell to Mission Health in the first place. But he did appreciate the fact that the foundation board has been forthcoming this time – concerning the sale to HCA.

Dumpsters

This year has been “the year of the bear” in Highlands.

They are walking through the business district at all hours, knocking over garbage cans, grease containers, crawling in and out of dumpsters – basically making a mess.

In many cases people are to blame, because even though the dumpsters have clip pins and chains that when properly used de-

...the bears, many times people don't bother to shut the lids or clip the pins.

At the Thursday Town Board meeting, Mayor Taylor asked the board to give the town staff approval to study the feasibility of developing a bin system for use on Oak Street in particular, like the one John Lupoli constructed for his tenants in the alley behind Town Square. Removing the large dumpsters on Oak Street – some of which are on town property – would also improve the appearance of the street, he said.

“The bin system may curtail residents from illegally dumping their garbage in these commercial spaces and the bear issue would also be reduced,” said Taylor.

The board agreed to have staff examine the feasibility of implementing the proposed system by looking at the costs, fees, location and operation of the system. If doable, the system could make it into the 2019 budget.
